COMMENTS: The PSEC project is critical for Riverside County. With one of the highest growth rates in the country during the last decade, Riverside County's primary radio communications system needs to be updated with state of art technology and reliable radio coverage. The greatest responsibility of government is the security and safety of its citizens. Reliable and survivable radio communications is mandatory for our first responders during all calamities. The events of 9/11 and subsequent catastrophies real life experiences which reflect these critical needs. It is the challenge of government executives to balance the needs of the enviroinment with what resources are critical to save the lives of our citizens and first responders.
